

Any student.
Any project.
Any stage.

In-Person Writing Consultations

- East Campus Writing Center
- West Campus Annex
- Los Angeles Regional Center
- High Desert Regional Center
- Inland Empire Coming Soon

Online Consultations & Workshops

for Non-Residential,
Graduate, and Regional Center Students

Workshops

- Writing Center 101
- Overcome Procrastination
- The Blank Page
- The Art of Argument
- Revise, Edit, & Proofread Your Own Work
- Write Away!
for multilingual students
- Graduate Workshops
- APA & MLA Documentation

Reference Materials

- Handout kiosks at all Regional Centers and Azusa Campus
- www.apu.edu/writingcenter/resources

Writing Center Website

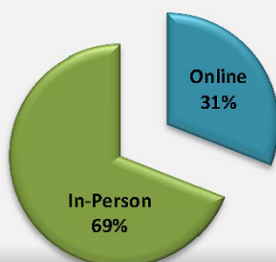

apu.edu/writingcenter

Make an Appointment

apu.mywconline.com or 626.815.6000 x.3141

The Writing Center is ONLINE!

2014 Appointment Breakdown

In order to better serve APU's growing and diverse population, the Writing Center offers several of its most useful services online, including the following:

- Over 35 writing handouts
 - Writing appointments for grad and non-residential student
 - Five different workshops
- Since January, 31% of our writing appointments have been online!

What is a Writer's Studio?

A Writer's Studio is a series of six appointments with the same Writing Coach. Those who will benefit from a Writer's Studio include students who are avoiding procrastination, taking writing-intensive courses, working on major writing projects, preparing for grad school, and English language learners. Students who simply desire additional writing guidance can sign up even without a specific writing assignment in mind.

Writer's Studios can be scheduled weekly, bi-weekly, or semi-weekly—and located online or in person—at any of our Writing Center locations.

Faculty Corner

The Writing Center is offering forty workshops this fall. Topics include argument, the writing process, graduate-specific workshops, APA and MLA documentation, and a new workshop series for multilingual students called Write Away!

Please consider recommending, requiring, or rewarding your students' attendance!

For more details, visit our online calendar at apu.edu/writingcenter/calendar.

Do you have an orientation coming up?
Call us! We'll be there!

